

1. compulsion	criminal defences, such as duress and necessity, in which the people claiming the defence argue that they were compelled or forced to act criminally because of other circumstances	14. criminal investigation process	the investigative stage of the criminal justice system where crimes are detected and investigated, and evidence is gathered so that an alleged offender may be brought before a court
2. computer crimes	crimes, such as identity theft, that are committed using computers and Internet technology	15. criminal justice system	the system that operates to bring criminal offenders to justice, incorporating the investigation process, the trial process, and sentencing and punishment; also known as the criminal process
3. consent	a criminal defence in which the defendant claims that he or she acted with the victim's consent	16. criminal liability	to be responsible under the law for a criminal offence
4. conspiracy	two or more people agreeing to do an unlawful act or to do a lawful act by unlawful means	17. criminal trial process	the hearing stage of the criminal justice system, in which the guilt or innocence of a defendant is decided in a court according to the rules of procedure and evidence
5. continued detention	the detention of serious offenders after their term of imprisonment has expired; also called preventative detention or preventive detention	18. cross-examination	when a witness is asked questions in court by the opposing side, in order to test the accuracy and objectivity of the evidence
6. control order	an order made by the Children's Court, sending a child to be detained in a juvenile detention centre	19. customary international law	principles and procedures that have grown up through general usage to the point where they are accepted as being fair and right by the international community
7. convention	a treaty which is agreed to and proclaimed by a large number of nations; also called a covenant	20. customs warrant	a written authorisation issued by a judge or magistrate that gives the police power, at any time, to enter and search any premises where drugs may be
8. coronial inquiry	an inquiry into the circumstances surrounding an unnatural death or an unexplained fire; also called an inquest	21. defence	a legally acceptable reason for committing a criminal act
9. crime	an act committed or an omission of duty, injurious to the public welfare, for which punishment is prescribed by law, imposed in a judicial proceeding usually brought in the name of the state	22. defendant	the person or group of people against whom a civil or criminal action is brought
10. crimes against property	acts or omissions which damage or remove other people's property, such as larceny, theft, break and enter, or property damage	23. deportation	the forcible removal of a person from a country in order to return that person to his or her country of origin
11. crimes against the international community	crimes committed by individuals and states which are seen as wrong by the international community, such as war crimes and terrorism	24. deterrence	a purpose of punishment which either dissuades the offender from committing a similar crime in the future because of fear of punishment (specific deterrence), or dissuades the general public from committing a similar crime (general deterrence)
12. crimes committed outside the jurisdiction	crimes which take place outside a particular nation's criminal laws, for example piracy and aircraft hijacking	25. diminished responsibility	a partial criminal defence, claiming the defendant acted while mentally ill or disabled and so is not entirely responsible for his or her actions, or where a normally sane person is so affected by alcohol or other drugs that he or she did not know what he or she was doing; also known as substantial impairment of responsibility
13. criminal infringement notice	a notice issued to people by police, imposing a fine for a minor crime		